gument which the Republicans were sure to use about McAdoo.

Yes, it was the son-in-law relation-ship that defeated McAdoe and set asid-all consideration of his executive ability and it was the nomination of Harding and it was the nomination of Hardi

The McAdoo forces were swept of their feet in the last 10 ballots by superior strategy. Ed Moore the Ohinational committeeman and floor manager for Cox, had the assistance of such astite pelificians as Charlie Murphy, of New York, Jim Nugent, of New Jersey, and George Brennan, of Illinois.

Those anti-Wilson forces won a virtory over the Wilson people. There no doubt of it. They shouted for Wilson and the league of nations on plat form questions but they nominated man who doesn't convey the same an tagonism to the old-line Democrats that Wilson man would have carried

Wilson Admires Cox.

Wilson Admires Cox.

Gov. Cox isn't anti-Wilson As a matter of fact the president has always had a high admiration for the Ohio governor and has praised the record of Gov. Cox as a progressive.

There is absolutely no doubt that the president will help Cox in his campaign by written statements if that be deemed advisable. It may not help Cox in the East to have the stamp of Wilson's approval, but that will be somewhat offset there by the approval of the regular Democratic organization. But, unless Woodrow Wilson says Cox is a progressive and commends fox to the electorate, the West will not warm up to Cox. The present inclination of the West is to go Republican anyway, and it will take a good deal of Wilson's influence to make Cox known in the Western country, let alone make him a strong candidate.

Considerations of this sort are influencing the Cox managers in trying to solvet a candidate for vice-triesilent. Franklin D. Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, who was expected to run for the United States schate in New York state, has the approval of Tammany for the Vice-presidency, but while Cox and Roosevelt pleased many delegates here, a ticket such as Cox and Murdock or Cox and Meredith would have been over so much more effective in getting Western votes, Meredith was boomed by some Cox adherents because of the belief that it would cement the Wilson branch of the party which lost the fight here and will tend to make for party harmony. The first task of Gov. Cox is to bring into line for himself the Western Democracy which fought so valisantly for McAdoo.

Prohibition Big Trouble.

Prohibition Big Trouble.

The main trouble will be the prohibition question. Bryan himself has written articles galore during this convention calling Cox the "candidate of the wets." The women of the West are not inclined to vote for wet candidates, especially if they are championed by Tammany, Gov. Cox's statement saying the only question involved in prohibition was one of law enforcement will in all probability be the line he will take during the campaign, inassmuch as the Democratic platform doesn't mention the subject. But it will take a good deal more than that to carry conviction.

doesn't mention the subject. But it will take a good deal more than that to carry conviction.

Gov. Cox will have to choose between the more or less wet East and the arid West as his battle ground, and he will find it just as difficult to be neutral in the fight as a man who tries to carry water on both shoulders. This convention has given Cox a wet stamp. The support of the Edwards crowd in New Jersey with other wet states gave him either his higgest asset or his biggest liability.

It is too early to say and also it is too early to know whether Cox and Harding will fight it out in this and Eastorn states or whether the battle will turn on the West.

Gov. Cox triumphed, however, after a hattle of ballots not less dramatic or spectacular than the Baltimore convention of eight years ago. The end came suddenly after Palmer had released his delegates. Instead of going to McAdoo, the bulk went to Cox because he was leading, and quickly passed the majority mark.

Many a wavering delegation under the unit rule had entered into an understanding that when a candidate obtained a majority, its entire vote would be cast for the high mun in the race.

derstanding that when a candidate ob-tained a majority, its entire vote would be east for the high min in the race. Moreover, the Cox managers had bored their way into McAdoo delc. tions and were building up a block of votes which could not be buiged even if the entire Paimer vote had been thrown by the attorney-general to McAdos, it was bee late for a combination for Mc-Adoo against Cox and too late for a McAdoo-Paimer combination on a dark horse.

Meadoo-Palmer combination on a dark horse.

It was McAdo or Cox, just as the altuation was outlined on the opening day of this convention. And Cox won by sheer pluck of his managers and shrewdness of his friends in the old organizations in the Democratic party.

The old growd has routed the new largely because Woodrox Wisson never played politics with sufficient interest in Tammany or the other organizations and because if he had, these same organizations had come to the conclusion that Wilson was more of a handicapthan a benefit in the state and local campaigns next fall.

Gov Cox to by no means of the Tammany humnd in politics though its owes his nomination to Murphy. Nugero, Brennan and Taggari bits so did Wilson owe by first nomination in New Jersey to organization be constructed.

Cox is the sort who wall act in terms craft: polities in spite of the surperior of the houses which he are a Sort. (Copyright, 1920, by David Lawrence,
